

App\Core\Controller

classDiagram
    class AppOptionsFormationController["App\OptionsFormationController"] class AppController["App\Controller"]
    AppOptionsFormationController --|> AppController

The diagram illustrates a class hierarchy. At the bottom is a light gray box labeled 'App\OptionsFormationController'. A blue arrow points upwards from this box to a white box at the top labeled 'App\Controller'. This indicates that 'App\OptionsFormationController' inherits from 'App\Controller'.
